Victor and his father got into a long discussion about war and peace—"that's all there is," he remembers his father saying; "It's always one or the other." It's easy to understand how Victor's father could see that war and peace are "all there is" in life—literal wars as well as emotional wars are waged around and within him, and he falls victim to them time and time again.

In reading "Because My Father Always Said..." I felt very connected through my experiences with my father and Hendrix. The narrator seemed to have a constant desire to foster and maintain a bond with his father, such as when he stated "I was born a goofy reservation mixed drink, and my father needed me just as much as he needed every other kind of drink" (27).

Verse 42. - And I knew that thou hearest me always, but because of the multitude which standeth around I said it, that they may believe that thou didst send me. This great utterance declares all the intimate relation which subsists between the Father of all and the Son in Jesus. A continuous absolute communion is ever going on between heaven and earth in the heart of Jesus.
