Dopo i segreti, i problemi e i conflitti, Logan ed Emily sembrano giunti al loro lieto fine. Hanno perduto loro stessi nell'anima dell'altro e si sono ritrovati piú forti e determinati di prima. Eppure... Eppure qualcuno non smette mai di giocare con le loro vite e per Emily e Logan le sfide non sono ancora finite. Tra passione e follia, riusciranno a sopravvivere? " Non mi fido piú di nessuno, nemmeno di lui. Ho chiuso fuori tutti, penso, infilando la chiave nella toppa. La porta si apre e il profumo di lei si insinua dolcemente nelle mie narici, il suo corpo coperto da un delizioso strato di pizzo nero riempie i miei occhi e i miei pensieri mentre i polmoni immagazzinano l'unica aria che vorrei respirare ogni maledetto istante. Ho chiuso fuori tutti. Tranne lei. "

Ali Reynolds doesn't go looking for trouble - but trouble comes looking for her when the battered, bloodstained body of Morgan Forester is discovered by her twin daughters. For the prime suspect, Morgan's husband, is the contractor Ali has hired to help re-design her home. Bryan Forester swears he had nothing to do with the killing - but no one, including Ali's boyfriend, Homicide Detective Dave Holman, believes him. Was Morgan's death the result of a domestic dispute that turned violent - or is her murder part of something far more sinister? In her determination to prove Bryan's innocence, Ali finds she has unwittingly entered a deadly game of cyber hide-and-seek with a ruthless killer.

An up front and brutally honest account of forty eight years of living with spirit; why it is not a party trick and the cautionary tale of how uneducated dabbling in the spirit world almost destroyed her as much as it had saved her. Alexandra tells the often tragic and sometimes hilarious true story of her interactions with those she refers to as '

James calls him Dad. I just call him evil. There are too many secrets behind these walls, but one of them has been revealed because now the cat 's out of the bag. And with it comes secrets and anger long buried. No one hurt us and gets away with it. James and I would see to it that he paid for his sins. So would his little princess. She would feel every ounce of pain he ever inflicted on us. He broke the most important woman in our lives. And we would make him watch us break the one in his. Her life at Hawk Academy had just started, and we weren ' t finished playing. No! We ' d only just begun. Author's Note: This is book TWO in a THREE book series. It is from Trent ' s POV. Each part of the series is told from a different viewpoint. Please be advised this series contains material not suitable for all readers. Join Liam and Gwen on their journey through an arranged marriage. One is a Christian, the other Agnostic. Though facing similar tragedies early in life, both chose different paths as adults. Would their marriage survive hardship and tragedy? Would they grow to love one another or would their marriage end in failure?

The committed relationship is the perfect vehicle for accessing life's greatest gifts. Deep pleasure, profound intimacy, personal fulfillment, and creative expression are some of the many gifts that the committed relationship is capable of providing. But for most couples these possibilities fail to materialize. Instead, partners silently slip into habits of interaction, which choke off their ability to access their immense potential. In Going All The Way, authors Brian and Marcia Gleason offer a model of relationship called the "Exceptional Marriage". Safety and security are the trademarks of a passable marriage. The Gleason's suggest a better option. An exceptional marriage creates space for partners to come alive. Such a relationship involves a radical commitment to support each other's truth and greatness. In their broader vision of a committed relationship the Gleason's encourage and invite couples to claim their human potential through unlocking their full range of sincere and transformative emotions. In most marriages, these responses are hidden, avoiding precisely those areas where the greatest potential for growth and fulfillment exist. According to the Gleason's, a relationship is a living experience which allows couples to move between needs for security and connection and the human impulses toward adventure and creativity. By letting go of their "control patterns" partners can free up their capacity to laugh, cry, shout, tremble and soar together and individually. Going All The Way is a sincere invitation for couples to claim their emotional birthright and to have a truly Exceptional Marriage.

This book exposes autism spectrum disorders as a combination of a whole range of often underlying conditions. Exploring everything from mood, anxiety, obsessive-compulsive and tic disorders to information processing and sensory perceptual difficulties and more, Donna demonstrates how such conditions can combine to form a 'cluster condition'.

Theologians and religious figures often draw a distinction between religion of the "head" and religion of the "heart," but few stop to ask what the terms "head" and "heart" actually denote. Many assume that this distinction has a scriptural basis, and yet many Biblical authors used the word "heart" as a synonym for "mind." In fact, there isn't a strict separation of the two concepts until the modern period, as in Pascal's famous claim that "the heart has its reasons that reason can not know." Since then, many other philosophers and theologians have made a similar distinction. The fact that this distinction has been so persistent makes it an important area of study. Head and Heart: Perspectives from Religion and Psychology takes an inter-disciplinary approach, linking the thinking of theologians and philosophers with theory and research in present-day psychology. The tradition of using framing questions that have been developed in theology and philosophy can now be brought into dialogue with scientific approaches developed within cognitive psychology and neuroscience. Though these scientific approaches have not generally used the terms "head" and "heart," they have arrived at a similar distinction in other ways. There is a notable convergence upon the realization that humans have two modes of cognition at their disposal that correspond to "head" and "heart." The time is therefore ripe to bring the approaches of theology and science in to dialogue—an important dialogue that has been heretofore neglected. Head and Heart draws on the unique expertise in relating theology and psychology of the University of Cambridge's Psychology and Religion Research Group (PRRG). In addition to providing historical and theoretical perspectives, the contributors to this volume will also address practical issues arising from the group's applied work in deradicalisation and religious education. Contributors include Geoff Dumbreck, Nicholas J. S. Gibson, Malcolm Guite, Liz Gulliford, Russell Re Manning, Glendon L. Moriarty, Sally Myers, Sara Savage, Carissa A. Sharp, Fraser Watts, Harris Wiseman, and Bonnie Poon Zahl.
